OIA Global's automotive and mobility team demonstrates operational excellence by delivering service-oriented solutions with dedicated account management, all while balancing costs.

Within OIA's automotive supply chain management segment, operations personnel conduct extensive load planning, factoring in the cargo weight and dimensions, the delivery route, vehicle and container size restrictions, as well as government regulations and the customer's requested accommodations. We can identify commodity-specific solutions or tailor our logistics services to your evolving needs.

Our company's customer-centric values allow us to constantly reinvent ourselves and find innovative global auto logistics solutions when it appears there aren't any.
